The Origin of Jonah Field, Northern Green River Basin, Wyoming

Currently around 77% of South Africa's energy generation comes from coal. By the time the last two coal-fired plants come on line, including the world's 4th largest coal-fired power plant, it is estimated that South Africa will be generating 94% of its domestic energy from coal. The South African government is currently (2014) strongly campaigning for fracking to be rolled-out across much of ...
